Senator John W. Daniel Will go on Lecture Platform.

THE ENGLISH SPEAKING

People Will Be His Subject When He Appears Before Richmond Lyceum — Governor Tyler Kept Busy at East Bradford—Strange Worm Appears—Mortimer Owen Dies From Blood Poisoning.

(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)
Richmond, Va., Aug. 24.—Quite a stir was occasioned here today by the announcement that Senator John W. Daniel has decided to go on the lecture platform. His first appearance will be before the Richmond Lyceum in this city, and his subject will be "The English-speaking People."

For years the various bureaus of the United States have been endeavoring to induce Senator Daniel to take the platform, but he has refused all offers up to the present time. A good round sum is expected to accrue to Senator Daniel from his effort in this city. He states that he will donate the same to some charity.

A LAUNCHING.
Plans are on foot to make the launching of the torpedo boat Shubrick, at the Trigg shipyards a gala occasion in Richmond.

The event will occur early in October, but the exact date will not be decided upon for a few weeks. This will be the first vessel ever built in Richmond, and, consequently, the first launching that has taken place here.

There will be a public meeting in Old Market Hall of Jefferson Ward citizens in a few days. At that time plans will be perfected for a parade, for fireworks at night and other features.

A grand stand to accommodate many thousands will be erected near the shipyards.

All the railroads will be formally requested to run excursions and to give one fare for the round trip. It is hoped to have several thousand visitors here and to make this day one of the most notable in the history of the city.

A RESY GOVERNOR.
No official notice has been received at the State penitentiary from the clerk of the Prince Edward county court, commutation of Thomas Price's sentence from hanging to life imprisonment. As soon as it is received a guard will be sent to see the prisoner safely to the penitentiary.

Governor Tyler's vacation, which he is spending with his family at East Radford, has been an immensely busy one. It will soon be over and he will have had little rest. The Governor's only visit to the mansion about the second week in September. Each summer they have spent in Radford and previous to this some member of the family has been seriously sick, but this vacation all have enjoyed good health and will return for the winter in Richmond having been greatly benefited by the summer in the mountains.

A STRANGE WORM.
The strange worm which has been doing so much damage to growing crops in Henrico county, is still going on with its terrible work, and farmers are scratching their heads in wonder. Edward Schmidt and Fred Neek, who have staid at the First Market, are latest sufferers. They report that the worm is harmless to the corn-cobs and has ruined no little late corn for them.

Mr. Neek said this morning that the worm is about an inch and one-half long with a black, soft body and a head like a caterpillar. The color is not uniform, however, some of the worms being black, others having yellow streaks on each side, and still others being yellow on the under side.

Mr. Neek says they eat all of the soft part of the millet, leaving only the stems stand. In corn they enter at the top of the stalk and eat their way down. The worms are in large droves and soon crop up in great numbers. Nothing has been found to kill them except English sparrows, which are consuming the worms in great numbers.

DIED OF BLOOD POISONING.
Mr. Risher, the eldest son of Mr. Ben P. Owen, private secretary to Governor Tyler, died this afternoon at the home of his parents, aged twelve years. The cause of the little fellow was due to blood poisoning.

DANVILLE.
MR. N. H. MASSIE DIES SUD-DENLY.
(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Danville, Va., Aug. 24.—Mr. N. H. Massie, Commonwealth's Attorney for Danville, died this morning at 8:20 o'clock. He was taken sick last Saturday with cold, which went into pneumonia. At the same time he was suffering from a cold, which produced blood poisoning. This went to the lungs, and after continuing suffering the patient died. His wife, who was in Raleigh, and his children, missed the train yesterday, and cannot reach here until this afternoon.

Mr. Massie was born in Charlottesville, Va., October 9, 1861, was graduated from the University of Virginia and came to Danville in 1885. He was elected Commonwealth's Attorney in 1892, and has held the office ever since.

He was for years superintendent of the Democratic party and took a very prominent part in politics.

NEWPORT NEWS.
WHITE WOMAN ELOPES WITH A NEGRO.

Newport News, Va., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Georgia L. Borneham, wife of Charles F. Borneham, proprietor of a bakery here, has eloped with a negro named George Waddell, who is almost as black. The couple met by appointment on the Norfolk boat and on the same evening proceeded to Baltimore by the Bay Line steamer. The outraged husband traced them to that city, but there lost track of the couple. She left behind a five year old child. The Bornehams came here from Staunton, Va., about two years ago.

CONGRESSMAN JONES.
IS WILL PLEASED WITH SENATO-RIAL SITUATION.

Fredericksburg, Va., Aug. 24.—Hon. W. A. Jones was in the city to-day, having come up by steamer last night from Northern Neck, where he spent Monday at Lancaster County Court.

He is on his way to join his family in the Valley of Virginia, where they are summering.

Mr. Jones has lost none of his order in his advocacy of the primary plan for electing United States Senators, which he says he is confident will be carried in Virginia. He says he is for Tyler because he is the exponent of all that movement and the best man of the two candidates for Senator.

Mr. Jones expressed gratification that Halifax, where he made his opening speech, though electing Martin delegates, endorsed the primary plan and declared for the change in the election.

He said sickness in his family had prevented him from carrying out all of his canvassing plans, but he will continue to speak through the campaign.

told him he must cease to interest himself in Esteryah, "not only for private and legal reasons, but for other reasons still more peremptory." (Sensation.)

Mr. De Verne, special commissary of the United States of War, deposed that Colonel Picquart was ordered to have Esteryah watched.

On several occasions, witness continued, Esteryah was seen entering the German embassy, always quite openly, but dressed in civilian clothing.

A CONVERSATION RECALLED.
Mr. Georges—Charles—Alfred—Marie-Miller de Grandmason, deputy from the district of Mame-Réaumur, who is claimed as a Roykin, thought said he was assured Dreyfus was innocent, because he had seen a letter from Colonel Schwartzkoppen, affirming the prisoner's innocence. Baker, it seems, also mentioned numerous documents showing that Dreyfus was a spy, and not including Dreyfus, were sent to Baker asked the witness to publish the documents, but without proof of their genuineness, as Emperor William did not wish to intervene.

The witness, after protesting against foreign interference in French affairs, repudiated the idea that a French officer could be sentenced because he was a Jew.

Mr. de Grandmason concluded by saying:

"I adjure the court to acquit the prisoner unconditionally, if it believes him innocent (laughter), and to convict him if it believes him guilty."

After hearing several other unimportant witnesses, the court adjourned.

IN AMERICA.
LABORER'S SECRETARY HUNTING
PROOF FOR DREYFUS.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)

Seattle, Wash., August 24.—M. Leon Bureau, the private secretary of Maître Labori, the leading counsel for Dreyfus, who has been in Seattle, visiting the French vice-consul, Dr. Monod, has left for Paris.

In an interview M. Bureau admitted for the first time that his trip to the Northwest was for the purpose of securing information of great value to Dreyfus. He has obtained it and this explains his desire to reach Paris without loss of time.

"I have been to the Puget Sound Lake, in the Northwest Territory," said M. Bureau, "after information connected with the Dreyfus case. I hope to reach Paris in time to hand it over to Labori before the case closes, but even if I do not, it will be of great value. I am unable to state the nature of the information I obtained for you know we must guard against every contingency in this case, future as well as present."

The impression that there was a conspiracy among the high army officials against Dreyfus, prior to the time he was condemned, is not in conformity with our belief or conviction.

It is true that the proceedings by which he was degraded were illegal, but we do not think that any deep-dyed conspiracy has been hatched against him. It was a case of an innocent man being prosecuted while the real criminal was in the background."

THE SULU ISLANDS.
GENERAL BATES MAKES AR-RANGEMENTS WITH THE SULTAN.

(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)

Manila, Aug. 24.—General Bates has returned from Sulu, having successfully completed his mission there. After five weeks negotiation with Sultan, an agreement was signed which in substance was as follows:

American sovereignty over Moros shall be recognized and there shall be no persecution against religion; the United States shall occupy and control such parts of the archipelago as public interests may demand; any person can purchase land with the Sultan's consent; the introduction of firearms shall be prohibited; piracy shall be suppressed; the American courts shall have jurisdiction except between the Moros; the Americans shall protect the Moros against foreign imposition and the Sultan's subsidy from Spain shall be continued.

The Sultan and several chiefs signed the agreement.

The Government of Porto Rico.
(By Telegram to Virginian-Pilot.)
Washington, D. C., August 23.—It is believed in high quarters here that many of the important questions relating to Porto Rico will be left for Congress to deal with, instead of being settled by executive action. One of these relates to the free exchange of commodities between Porto Rico and the country.

Another plan of relieving Porto Rico was to permit her tobacco enter Cuba free of duty. This would give an easy market to Porto Rican tobacco, but the point has been raised that it would depress Cuban tobacco.

TWO CONVENTIONS IN SAME HALL AT SUFFOLK

years, during which he had been tried in fire and proven true. For 20 years he had borne the brunt of party work and had always proven himself loyal to all interests. He has never wavered in devotion. He was a worthy successor in four legislative halls to your gallant father.

The nomination was seconded by Hon. J. E. Booker and Colonel Boykin was nominated by a rising vote.

Dr. Rawles and Captain Britt were appointed a committee to notify Colonel Boykin of his nomination.

A motion was offered by Dr. T. E. Hart endorsing the course of Senator Martin. It was adopted.

THE NOTE.

The vote as announced for Boykin was 26 from Isle of Wight and 23 from Nansemond—49. This is two more than the other side allows them.

The vote for Shands on the other side was 26 from Isle of Wight, 20 from Southampton and 5 from Nansemond—51.

CHAIRMAN WEST'S STATEMENT.

Regarding the Nansemond vote, Chairman West, of the Boykin convention, said it was recorded incorrectly by the secretaries. He says of Nansemond's 26 delegates 20 voted for Boykin, 4 for Shands and 2 didn't vote.

Hurricane Branch, Nansemond's well known seceder, was sergeant at arms in the convention. When the Boykin crowd adjourned, their side the delegates filed out of the theatre, just as Mr. Shands was escorted in to make a speech to the other side. Though it was said and an extra police force was on duty, Big pharisees were posted about the hall telling where the several delegations and their alternates were seated.

The Shands people claimed from two-thirds to three-fourths of the crowd, and all the while the speaker on the other side was claiming the majority. When the Boykin crowd adjourned, their side the delegates filed out of the theatre, just as Mr. Shands was escorted in to make a speech to the other side. Though it was said and an extra police force was on duty, Big pharisees were posted about the hall telling where the several delegations and their alternates were seated.

It was considered remarkable that no personal differences resulted, from the clash of the two factions. The nearest approach to trouble of this kind was when Mr. Brownley, as leader of the Shands' forces, declared that that side would take charge of the convention.

The organization, Mr. Brownley stepped upon the stage to receive Judge Prince, who had been declared temporary chairman by the Shands' side. Mr. J. E. Booker, chairman of Nansemond county, ran across the stage and excitedly informed Mr. Prince of the situation.

Mr. Prince then stepped upon the stage and paid for the other side. Mr. Brownley, who will weigh not less than 25 pounds, waved Mr. Booker and the other Boykin men aside and walked unopposedly upon the stage.

"I don't care if you have wanted it," he declared, "it's voted for the Democrats of the Tidewater district, and we are they. We will stay here and organize this convention." This was met with applause.

An hour before the convention met it looked as if there was going to be trouble. It was freely rumored on the streets during the morning that admission to the convention would be only by tickets issued by Colonel Day, and that the Shands' delegates from Isle of Wight would not be given any.

Ex-State Senator Harry Maynard, of Portsmouth, applied to Colonel Day for a ticket to witness the proceedings. He was refused. A newspaper man also was refused a ticket. It is said that the Shands' men, numbered their seats, the press and the Shands' side of Wight delegates would be excluded. It soon became apparent, however, that the other side would have no cause for fear. The anti-Boykin delegates were not given any.

Mr. Maynard, however, demanded that no arbitrary methods, such as would lead to a personal affray, be attempted, and just before the meeting convened it was announced that it would be an open one.

Concerning the course of the convention to-day, Hon. William Shands said to the Virginian-Pilot representative:

"The Democrats of the district are overwhelmingly with me. The other people are the bottom. I am a Democrat first, last and all the time, and no matter what the minority in the convention chooses to call on, the people know that our nominations came regularly."

Dr. Claude Bradshaw, the nominee of the Isle of Wight, was in Suffolk to-day and watched the fight closely. He said to the Virginian-Pilot representative after the meeting:

"We have won the fight and go before the people at the regular Democratic nomination."

He said that the fair election and a fair count in November.

THREE PROPOSITIONS.
Just before both conventions began proceedings, Mr. West, chairman of the Boykin side, approached Judge Prince, the Shands chairman, and said if that side would wait he had three propositions to submit looking to arbitration.

They were these: To leave the matter with the State Committee, to submit it to a primary of Isle of Wight county. The first proposition was refused because the State Committee is for Martin.

As to leaving it to a primary, this was refused. The Shands-Bradshaw people at the Isle of Wight must show people at the Isle of Wight, of meeting when they asked for it, and now having won fairly it was too late to talk of compromising this way. These propositions were not offered publicly, but were discussed only between the two chairmen.

SKETCH OF CANDIDATES.
William Shands was born at Courtland 37 years ago. He was called Jerusalem then. He is a son of General W. R. Shands, a hero of the Confederacy, who still lives and who is associated with his son in the practice of law. Mr. Shands is a great-grandson of President John Tyler. His first wife, who was a daughter of the late Dr. T. J. Pettlow, was a great-granddaughter of Thomas Jefferson. His present wife, who was Anne Ridley, a daughter of William Ridley, is a lineal descendant of Major Ridley, of Revolutionary fame, who led the van guard at the battle of Trenton.

Mr. Shands was a member of his County Executive Committee soon after attaining his majority, and was for several years its chairman. He was State's Attorney of Southampton eight years. Mr. Shands is an affable, popular gentleman, and his friends believe he would make an excellent Senator.

COLONEL RICHARD E. BOYKIN.
Colonel Boykin was born about 47 years ago. He has for four years been Senator from this district, and was prior to that a member of the Lower House from Isle of Wight for two years. He is an orator of exceptional power.

Colonel Boykin has been State's Attorney in Isle of Wight for many years. He was a member of Gov. Chas. T. O'Ferrall's staff during his occupancy of the gubernatorial chair. Colonel Boykin has been a Democrat always and has always been loyal to its interests.

THE OUTCOME.
How the whole thing is going to result is at this stage of the game problematical. The matter may be appealed for decision to the State Committee, but it is not believed the nominees will agree to abide by its decision. It looks like the voters next fall will have to choose between the two.
